

Falan Griggs

Falan is a single mother to 1 child, Grayson. When she began the WIOA program in October 2017 she was determined to gain her Certified Nursing Assistant Certificate. She has since completed Dynamic Futures class where she gained basic job finding and job keeping skills, she also learned about the Local Labor Market Information and how to use that to better navigate her future. She completed the Long Term Care Nursing Assistant course at Wes Watkins Technology Center while she was completing her Work Experience at Boyce Manor Nursing Home. By utilizing the work experience during her classes she was able to provide for herself and her son as the nursing home was willing to schedule her for hours that fit her class schedule.

She is now completing her On the Job Training at Holdenville General Hospital where she has obtained a full time position. She is also doing research to determine what educational goals are realistic for her in her local economy. She has also been studying for the HiSET exam so that she can finally gain her diploma and continue pursuing her education.
